

Name: Mya Haak

Grade: 12th

School: Providence School of Jacksonville

Career Aspiration: Neonatal Intensive Care Unit (NICU) Nurse

Mya participated in a virtual learning experience hosted by the First Coast Black Nurses Association. During this experience, medical professionals from across the First Coast shared what motivated them to go into the medical field, described details of a typical work day and answered general questions from the group. This experience also afforded Mya the opportunity to work on a small group assignment that was required to write a 10 page research paper, construct a PowerPoint presentation and present findings to the larger group.

Mya will complete her internship experience during the summer of 2021.
